COMES NOW, the plaintiff, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, by and through its counsel, KAREN P. HEWITT, United States Attorney, and Aaron B. Clark, Assistant United States Attorney, hereby files its Response and Opposition to Defendant's Motions to Compel Discovery; Preserve Evidence; and Grant Leave to File Further Motions. The United States hereby also makes its Motion for Reciprocal Discovery. This response and motion are based upon the files and records of the case together with the attached statement of facts and memorandum of points and authorities.

ISTATEMENT OF THE CASE

On October 31, 2007, the Government filed a two-count indictment charging Laura Yesenia Mendoza-Delgadillo ("Defendant") with violating 21 U.S.C. §§ 952 and 960, importation of 50 kilograms and more of marijuana, and 21 U.S.C. § 841(a)(1), possession of 50 kilograms and more of marijuana, with intent to distribute. The amount specifically alleged in the indictment is 61.96 kgs (136.31 pounds) of marijuana. On November 14, 2007, Defendant was arraigned on the Indictment and entered a plea of not guilty.

IISTATEMENT OF FACTS

On September 5, 2007, Defendant attempted entry into the United States through the Calexico, California, East Port of Entry at approximately 1:38 p.m. She was the driver, registered owner, and sole occupant of a brown 2000 Toyota Sienna with Mexican license plates. At primary inspection Defendant gave a negative customs declaration and stated she had owned the vehicle for approximately four months. The CBP officer conducting the primary inspection noticed a strong air freshener type odor emitting from the vehicle and that the vehicle was extremely clean. During his inspection of the dashboard area of the vehicle, the officer observed a non-factory metal material covering the defroster vents. He thereafter referred Defendant and the vehicle to the secondary lot for further inspection.

In the secondary inspection area, Defendant again gave a negative customs declaration and claimed she had owned the vehicle for several months. Further inspection of the vehicle revealed a total of 42 packages of marijuana, with a combined weight of 61.96 kgs (136.31 pounds), concealed within the dashboard and gas tank. Defendant was subsequently arrested

Following her arrest, Defendant initially elected to waive her Miranda rights and speak with agents. Among the statements she made, Defendant denied knowledge of the drugs in the vehicle. She also claimed she had owned the vehicle for a month, and that she was headed to Walmart in Calexico to buy office furniture. Defendant further claimed that she had given her vehicle to a person named Rodolfo Ramirez, "Chato" the night before to have it washed. She claimed she picked the vehicle up at 12:30 p.m. that day and headed straight for the border. Prior to retrieving her vehicle, Defendant

1 claimed she had borrowed her sister's vehicle to take her son to a school meeting with his teachers. At 2 approximately 5 p.m., Defendant invoked requested an attorney and the interview ended..

5 GOVERNMENT'S RESPONSE TO DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR DISCOVERY

6 The United States intends to fully comply with its discovery obligations under Brady v.
 7 Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), the Jenks Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3500, and Rule 16 of the Federal Rules of 8 Criminal Procedure. Thus far, the United States has produced 64 pages of discovery and one DVD of 9 statements. Defendant's specific requests are addressed below.

10 (1) The Defendant's Statements

11 The United States recognizes its obligation under Rule 16(a)(1)(A) and 16(a)(1)(B) to provide 12 to Defendant the substance of Defendant's oral statements and Defendant's written statements. The 13 United States has produced all of Defendant's oral and written statements that are known to the 14 undersigned Assistant U.S. Attorney at this date and all available compact discs. If the United States 15 discovers additional written or oral statements that require disclosure under Rule 16(a)(1)(A) or Rule 16 16(a)(1)(B), such statements will be provided to Defendant.

17 The United States has no objection to the preservation of the handwritten notes taken by any of 18 the United States' agents and officers. See United States v. Harris, 543 F.2d 1247, 1253 (9th Cir. 1976) 19 (agents must preserve their original notes of interviews of an accused or prospective government 20 witnesses). However, the United States objects to providing Defendant with a copy of any rough notes 21 at this time. Rule 16(a)(1)(A) does not require disclosure of the rough notes where the content of those 22 notes have been accurately reflected in a type-written report. See United States v. Brown, 303 F.3d 582, 23 590 (5th Cir. 2002); United States v. Coe, 220 F.3d 573, 583 (7th Cir. 2000) (Rule 16(a)(1)(A) does not 24 require disclosure of an agent's notes even where there are "minor discrepancies" between the notes and 25 a report). The United States is not required to produce rough notes pursuant to the Jencks Act, because 26 the notes do not constitute "statements" (as defined under 18 U.S.C. § 3500(e)) unless the notes (1) 27 comprise both a substantially verbatim narrative of a witness' assertion, and (2) have been approved or 28 adopted by the witness. United States v. Spencer, 618 F.2d 605, 606-07 (9th Cir. 1980). The rough

1 notes in this case do not constitute “statements” in accordance with the Jencks Act.
2 See United States v. Ramirez, 954 F.2d 1035, 1038-39 (5th Cir. 1992) (rough notes were not statements 3 under the Jencks Act where notes were scattered and all the information contained in the notes was 4 available in other forms). The notes are not Brady material because the notes do not present any 5 material exculpatory information, or any evidence favorable to Defendant that is material to guilt or 6 punishment. Brown, 303 F.3d at 595-96 (rough notes not Brady material because the notes were neither 7 favorable to the defense nor material to defendant’s guilt or punishment); United States v. Ramos, 27 8 F.3d 65, 71 (3d Cir. 1994) (mere speculation that agents’ rough notes contained Brady evidence was 9 insufficient). If, during a future evidentiary hearing, certain rough notes become discoverable under 10 Rule 16, the Jencks Act, or Brady, the notes in question will be provided to the Defendant.

11 Additionally, the United States has produced all waiver forms, translations and recordings of any 12 warnings given to the defendant. This request is moot.

13 (2) Arrest Reports, Notes and Dispatch Tapes

14 The Government has provided the Defendant with arrest reports. As noted previously, agent 15 rough notes, if any exist, will be preserved, but they will not be produced as part of Rule 16 discovery.
16 The Government is unaware of any dispatch tapes in this matter, but if it becomes aware of such tapes, 17 the Government will abide by its discovery obligations as pertains to such tapes.

18 (3) Brady Material

19 Again, the United States is well aware of and will continue to perform its duty under Brady v.
20 Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), and United States v. Agurs, 427 U.S. 97 (1976), to disclose exculpatory 21 evidence within its possession that is material to the issue of guilt or punishment. Defendant, however, 22 is not entitled to all evidence known or believed to exist which is, or may be, favorable to either of the 23 accused, or which pertains to the credibility of the United States’ case. As stated in United States v.
24 Gardner, 611 F.2d 770 (9th Cir. 1980), it must be noted that “the prosecution does not have a 25 constitutional duty to disclose every bit of information that might affect the jury’s decision; it need only 26 disclose information favorable to the defense that meets the appropriate standard of materiality.” Id.
27 at 774-775 (citation omitted).

28 The United States will turn over evidence within its possession which could be used to properly

1 impeach a witness who has been called to testify.

2 Although the United States will provide conviction records, if any, which could be used to 3 impeach a witness, the United States is under no obligation to turn over the criminal records of all 4 witnesses. United States v. Taylor, 542 F.2d 1023, 1026 (8th Cir. 1976). When disclosing such 5 information, disclosure need only extend to witnesses the United States intends to call in its case-in-
6 chief. United States v. Gering, 716 F.2d 615, 621 (9th Cir. 1983); United States v. Angelini, 607 F.2d 7 1305, 1309 (9th Cir. 1979).

8 Finally, the United States will continue to comply with its obligations pursuant to United States 9 v. Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29 (9th Cir. 1991).

10 (4) Sentencing Information

11 Defendants claim that the United States must disclose any information affecting Defendant's 12 sentencing guidelines because such information is discoverable under Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 13 (1963). The United States respectfully contends that it has no such disclosure obligation under Brady.

14 The United States is not obligated under Brady to furnish a defendant with information which 15 he already knows. United States v. Taylor, 802 F.2d 1108, 1118 n.5 (9th Cir. 1986). Brady is a rule of 16 disclosure, and therefore, there can be no violation of Brady if the evidence is already known to the 17 defendant. In such case, the United States has not suppressed the evidence and consequently has no 18 Brady obligation. See United States v. Gaggi, 811 F.2d 47, 59 (2d Cir. 1987).

19 But even assuming Defendant does not already possess the information about factors which 20 might affect their guideline ranges, the United States would not be required to provide information 21 bearing on Defendant's mitigation of punishment until after Defendant's conviction or plea of guilty and 22 prior to his sentencing date. See United States v. Juvenile Male, 864 F.2d 641, 647 (9th Cir. 1988) ("No 23 [Brady] violation occurs if the evidence is disclosed to the defendant at a time when the disclosure 24 remains in value."). Additionally, the United States is unaware of any cooperation, or even attempted 25 cooperation, provided by Defendant. Accordingly, Defendant's demand for this information is 26 premature.

27 //

28 (5) Defendant's Prior Record

1 The United States will provide the Defendant with a copy of his criminal record in accordance 2 with Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 16(a)(1)(B).

3 (6) Proposed 404(b) and 609 Evidence

4 Should the United States seek to introduce any similar act evidence pursuant to Federal Rules 5 of Evidence 404(b) or 609, the United States will provide Defendant with official notice of its proposed 6 use of such evidence and information about such bad act at the time the United States' trial 7 memorandum is filed.

8 (7, 8) Evidence Seized - Tangible Objects and Documents

9 The United States has complied and will continue to comply with Rule 16(a)(1)(E) in allowing 10 Defendant an opportunity, upon reasonable notice, to examine, inspect, and copy all tangible objects 11 seized that is within its possession, custody, or control, and that is either material to the preparation of 12 Defendant's defense, or intended for use by the United States as evidence during its case-in-chief at trial, 13 or obtained from or belongs to Defendant. The United States need not, however, produce rebuttal 14 evidence in advance of trial. United States v. Givens, 767 F.2d 574, 584 (9th Cir. 1984).

15 (9) Evidence of Bias or Motive to Lie

16 The United States is unaware of any evidence indicating that a prospective witness is biased or 17 prejudiced against Defendant. The United States is also unaware of any evidence that prospective 18 witnesses have a motive to falsify or distort testimony.

19 (10) Impeachment Evidence

20 As stated previously, the United States will turn over evidence within its possession which could 21 be used to properly impeach a witness who has been called to testify.

22 (11) Criminal Investigation of Government Witness

23 Defendant is not entitled to any evidence that a prospective witness is under criminal 24 investigation by federal, state, or local authorities. "[T]he criminal records of such [Government] 25 witnesses are not discoverable." United States v. Taylor, 542 F.2d 1023, 1026 (8th Cir. 1976); United 26 States v. Riley, 657 F.2d 1377, 1389 (8th Cir. 1981) (holding that since criminal records of prosecution 27 witnesses are not discoverable under Rule 16, rap sheets are not either); cf. United States v. Rinn, 586 28 F.2d 113, 118-19 (9th Cir. 1978) (noting in dicta that "[i]t has been said that the Government has no

1 discovery obligation under Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(C) to supply a defendant with the criminal records
2 of the Government's intended witnesses.") (citing Taylor, 542 F.2d at 1026).

3 The United States will, however, provide the conviction record, if any, which could be used to 4 impeach witnesses the United States intends to call in its case-in-chief. When disclosing such 5 information, disclosure need only extend to witnesses the United States intends to call in its case-in-
6 chief. United States v. Gering, 716 F.2d 615, 621 (9th Cir. 1983); United States v. Angelini, 607 F.2d 7 1305, 1309 (9th Cir. 1979).

8 (12) Evidence Affecting Perception, Recollection, Ability to Communicate

9 The United States is unaware of any evidence indicating that a prospective witness has a problem 10 with perception, recollection, or communication.

11 (13) Witness Addresses

12 The United States has provided Defendant with the reports containing the names of the agents 13 involved in the apprehension and interviews of Defendant. A defendant in a non-capital case, however, 14 has no right to discover the identity of prospective Government witnesses prior to trial. See Weatherford 15 v. Bursey, 429 U.S. 545, 559 (1977); United States v. Dishner, 974 F.2d 1502, 1522 (9th Cir 1992)
16 (citing United States v. Steel, 759 F.2d 706, 709 (9th Cir. 1985)); United States v. Hicks, 103 F.2d 837, 17 841 (9th Cir. 1996). Nevertheless, in its trial memorandum, the United States will provide Defendants 18 with a list of all witnesses whom it intends to call in its case-in-chief, although delivery of such a 19 witness list is not required. See United States v. Discher, 960 F.2d 870 (9th Cir. 1992); United States 20 v. Mills, 810 F.2d 907, 910 (9th Cir. 1987).

21 The United States objects to any request that it provide a list of every witness to the crimes 22 charged who will not be called as a United States witness. "There is no statutory basis for granting such 23 broad requests," and a request for the names and addresses of witnesses who will not be called at trial
24 "far exceed[s] the parameters of Rule 16(a)(1)(C)." United States v. Hsin-Yung, 97 F. Supp.2d 24, 36
25 (D. D.C. 2000) (quoting United States v. Boffa, 513 F. Supp. 444, 502 (D. Del. 1980)). The United 26 States is not required to produce all possible information and evidence regarding any speculative defense 27 claimed by Defendants. Wood v. Bartholomew, 516 U.S. 1, 6-8 (1995) (per curiam) (holding that 28 inadmissible materials that are not likely to lead to the discovery of admissible exculpatory evidence

1 are not subject to disclosure under Brady).

2 (14) Name of Witnesses Favorable to the Defense

3 The United States objects to any request that it provide a list of every witness to the crimes
4 charged who will not be called as a United States witness. The United States has stated that it will 5 comply with the request for its witness list before trial. "There is no statutory basis for granting such 6 broad requests," and a request for the names and addresses of witnesses who will not be called at trial
7 "far exceed[s] the parameters of Rule 16(a)(1)(C)." United States v. Hsin-Yung, 97 F. Supp.2d 24, 36
8 (D. D.C. 2000) (quoting United States v. Boffa, 513 F. Supp. 444, 502 (D. Del. 1980)). The United 9 States is not required to produce all possible information and evidence regarding any speculative defense
10 claimed by Defendants. Wood v. Bartholomew, 516 U.S. 1, 6-8 (1995) (per curiam) (holding that 11 inadmissible materials that are not likely to lead to the discovery of admissible exculpatory evidence
12 are not subject to disclosure under Brady). The United States will also comply with its discovery 13 obligations regarding any exculpatory evidence that it might become aware of regarding the defendant.
14 But absent these obligations, the United States is unaware of any witness that may be favorable to the 15 defendant.

16 As stated previously, the United States will turn over evidence within its possession which could 17 be used to properly impeach a witness who has been called to testify.

18 (15) Statements Relevant to the Defense

19 The United States will continue to comply with its obligations under Brady, Jencks, Giglio, and 20 Rule 16, as pertains to any statement relevant to the defense. However, the United States objects to the 21 broad nature of this request for "any statement that may be 'relevant to any possible defense or 22 contention.'"

23 (16) Jencks Act Material

24 The Jencks Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3500, requires that, after a United States witness has testified on 25 direct examination, the United States must give the Defendant any "statement" (as defined by the Jencks 26 Act) in its possession that was made by the witness relating to the subject matter to which the witness 27 testified. 18 U.S.C. § 3500(b). A "statement" under the Jencks Act is (1) a written statement made by 28 the witness and signed or otherwise adopted or approved by him, (2) a substantially verbatim,

1 contemporaneously recorded transcription of the witness's oral statement, or (3) a statement by the 2 witness before a grand jury. 18 U.S.C. § 3500(e). If notes are read back to a witness to see whether or 3 not the government agent correctly understood what the witness was saying, that act constitutes 4 "adoption by the witness" for purposes of the Jencks Act. United States v. Boshell, 952 F.2d 1101, 1105 5 (9th Cir. 1991) (citing Goldberg v. United States, 425 U.S. 94, 98 (1976)). While the United States is 6 only required to produce all Jencks Act material after the witness testifies, the United States plans to 7 provide most (if not all) Jencks Act material well in advance of trial to avoid any needless delays.

8 Additionally, no witness who testified before the grand jury will testify at trial, so the United 9 States does not anticipate that it will have to provide any of the Grand Jury transcripts to Defendant.

10 (17) Giglio Information

11 As stated previously, the United States will comply with its obligations pursuant to Brady v.
 12 Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), the Jencks Act, United States v. Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29 (9th Cir. 1991), 13 and Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972).

14 (18) Reports of Scientific Tests or Examination

15 The United States will provide the results of any reports of scientific tests or examinations, 16 should any be conducted. At this time, the United States is aware of no tests or examinations which are 17 material to the preparation of the defense or are intended for use by the United States at trial.

18 (19) Henthorn Evidence

19 The United States will continue to comply with its obligations pursuant to United States v.
 20 Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29 (9th Cir. 1991).

21 (20) Informants and Cooperating Witnesses

22 If the Government determines that there is a confidential informant whose identity is "relevant 23 and helpful to the defense of an accused, or is essential to a fair determination of a cause," it will 24 disclose that person's identity to the Court for in-chambers inspection. See Roviaro v. United States, 25 353 U.S. 53, 60-61 (1957); United States v. Ramirez-Rangel, 103 F.3d 1501, 1505 (9th Cir. 1997).

26 The United States has already stated it will comply with its Brady, Giglio, Jencks Act, and 27 further Rule 16 discovery obligations. The United States will comply with the structure of Roviaro if 28 it determines that any confidential informant information is "relevant and helpful to the defense of [the]

1 accused, or is essential to the fair determination of a cause.” Roviaro, 353 U.S. at 60.

2 As the Court is aware, the Supreme Court has declined to adopt an absolute rule requiring 3 disclosure of an informant’s identity whenever it is relevant or helpful to a defendant’s case. See 4 Roviaro v. United States, 353 U.S. at 62. Indeed, as the D.C. Circuit stated in United States v. Skeens, 5 449 F.2d 1066, 1071 (D.C. Cir.1971), a “heavy burden ... rests on an accused to establish that the 6 identity of an informant is necessary to his defense.” Id. at 1070. “Mere speculation” that an informant’s 7 testimony may assist the defendant is not sufficient to meet this burden. United States v. Mangum, 100 8 F.3d 164, 172 (D.C. Cir.1996). In determining whether the Defendant has met this burden, the Court 9 must balance “the public interest in protecting the flow of information against the individual’s right to 10 prepare his defense,” all the while “taking into consideration the crime charged, the possible defenses, 11 the possible significance of the informer’s testimony, and other relevant factors.” Roviaro, 353 U.S. at 12 62. The United States will comply with its Rovario obligations, but it also requests that any information 13 provided to the Defendants be subject to in camera review by the Court.

14 (21) Expert Witnesses

15 The Government will comply with Rule 16(a)(1)(G) and provide Defendant with a written 16 summary of any expert testimony that the Government intends to use under Rules 702, 703, or 705 of 17 the Federal Rules of Evidence during its case-in-chief at trial. This summary shall include the expert 18 witnesses’ qualifications, the expert witnesses opinions and the bases and reasons for those opinions.

19 (22) Personnel Records of Government Officers Involved in the Arrest

20 Defendant cites a California Supreme Court case from 1974 for the proposition that he is entitled 21 to “all citizen complaints and other related internal affairs documents involving any of the immigration 22 officers or other law enforcement officers who were involved” In fact, Pitchess v. Superior Court, 23 11 Cal. 3d 531, 539 (1974), has been superseded by statute. The legislature’s aim in enacting the statute, 24 as described the California Supreme Court, was “to protect such records against ‘fishing expeditions’ 25 conducted by defense attorneys following the Pitchess decision.” City of San Jose v. Superior Court, 26 5 Cal.4th 47, 54 (1993).

27 The controlling federal law is United States v. Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29 (9th Cir. 1991), and the 28 Government, as stated, will continue to comply with those obligations.

1 (23) Training of Relevant Law Enforcement Officers

2 The United States objects to any request for discovery of policies, instructions and training 3 manuals regarding the interrogation of subjects or handling of evidence. The requested materials are 4 irrelevant and do not fall within the scope of Rule 16, or any other statutory or Constitutional disclosure 5 provision. Even if one or more of the officers or special agents violated his or her own administrative 6 regulations, guidelines, or procedures, such violations would not result in the exclusion of evidence if 7 Defendant's Constitutional and statutory rights were not violated in this case. United States v. Caceres, 8 440 U.S. 741, 744 (1979); United States v. Hinton, 222 F.3d 664 (9th Cir. 2000).

9 (24) Names and Contact Information for All Agents in the Field at the Time of Arrest.

10 The United States objects to any request that it provide the names and contact information for 11 all agents in the field at the time of Defendant's arrest. As noted above, the United States has stated that 12 it will comply with the request for its witness list before trial. "There is no statutory basis for granting 13 such broad requests," and a request for the names and addresses of witnesses who will not be called at 14 trial "far exceed[s] the parameters of Rule 16(a)(1)(C)." United States v. Hsin-Yung, 97 F. Supp.2d 24, 15 36 (D. D.C. 2000) (quoting United States v. Boffa, 513 F. Supp. 444, 502 (D. Del. 1980)). The United 16 States is not required to produce all possible information and evidence regarding any speculative defense
17 claimed by Defendants. Wood v. Bartholomew, 516 U.S. 1, 6-8 (1995) (per curiam) (holding that 18 inadmissible materials that are not likely to lead to the discovery of admissible exculpatory evidence
19 are not subject to disclosure under Brady). The United States will also comply with its discovery 20 obligations regarding any exculpatory evidence that it might become aware of regarding the defendant.

21
22 As stated previously, the United States will turn over evidence within its possession which could 23 be used to properly impeach a witness who has been called to testify.

24 (25) Agreements Between the Government and Witnesses.

25 As stated previously, the United States will comply with its obligations pursuant to Brady v.
26 Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), the Jencks Act, United States v. Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29 (9th Cir. 1991), 27 and Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972).

28 //

(26) TECS Records

The United States objects to providing Defendant with crossing reports from the Treasury Enforcement Communications System (“TECS”). TECS reports are not subject to Rule 16(c) because the reports are neither material to the preparation of the defense, nor intended for use by the United States as evidence during its case-in-chief. The TECS reports are not Brady material because the TECS reports do not present any material exculpatory information or any evidence favorable to Defendant that is material to guilt or punishment. If the United States intends to introduce TECS information at trial, discovery of the relevant TECS reports will be made at least by the time of the filing of its trial memorandum.

(27) Opportunity to Weigh, View and Photograph the Contraband

At Defendant’s request, the United States will provide a reasonable opportunity for her to view, photograph, and weigh the narcotics seized in this case.

(28) DEA 7 Form

To the extent a DEA 7 is created in this case, the United States will timely provide a copy of the report to Defendant.

(29) Narcotics Detector Dog Information

The United States is not aware of any Narcotics Detector Dog involved in this case.

(30) Residual Request

The United States has already complied with Defendant’s request for prompt compliance with its discovery obligations prior to Indictment. The United States will continue to comply with all of its discovery obligations, but objects to the broad nature of Defendant’s further discovery requests.

IVPRESERVATION OF EVIDENCE

The United States will preserve all evidence to which Defendant is entitled pursuant to the relevant discovery rules. However, the United States objects to any blanket request to preserve all physical evidence.

The United States has complied and will continue to comply with Rule 16(a)(1)(C) in allowing Defendant an opportunity, upon reasonable notice, to examine, copy and inspect physical evidence

1 which is within his possession, custody or control of the United States, and which is material to the 2 preparation of Defendant's defense or intended for use by the United States as evidence in chief at trial, 3 or obtained from or belong to Defendant, including photographs. The United States has made the 4 evidence available to Defendant and his investigators and will comply with any request for inspection.

5 V

6 NO OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S REQUEST FOR LEAVE TO FILE FURTHER 7 MOTIONS

8 The United States does not object to the granting of leave to allow Defendant to file further 9 motions, as long as the order applies equally to both parties and additional motions are based on newly 10 discovered evidence or discovery provided by the United States subsequent to the instant motion at 11 issue.

12 VI

13 MOTION FOR RECIPROCAL DISCOVERY

14 The United States hereby moves for reciprocal discovery from the Defendant. To date 15 Defendant has not provided any. The United States, pursuant to Rule 16 of the Federal Rules of 16 Criminal Procedure, requests that Defendant permit the United States to inspect, copy, and photograph 17 any and all books, papers, documents, photographs, tangible objects, or make copies of portions thereof, 18 which are within the possession, custody or control of Defendant and which Defendant intends to 19 introduce as evidence in their case-in-chief at trial.

20 The United States further requests that it be permitted to inspect and copy or photograph any 21 results or reports of physical or mental examinations and of scientific tests or experiments made in 22 connection with this case, which are in the possession or control of Defendant, which Defendant intend 23 to introduce as evidence-in-chief at the trial, or which were prepared by a witness whom Defendant 24 intends to call as a witness. Because the United States will comply with Defendant's request for 25 delivery of reports of examinations, the United States is entitled to the items listed above under Rule 26 16(b)(1) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure. The United States also requests that the Court 27 make such order as it deems necessary under Rules 16(d)(1) and (2) to ensure that the United States 28 receives the discovery to which it is entitled.

1 In addition, Rule 26.2 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure requires the production of 2 prior statements of all witnesses, except a statement made by Defendant. This rule thus provides for the 3 reciprocal production of Jencks statements. The time frame established by the rule requires the 4 statement to be provided after the witness has testified. To expedite trial proceedings, the United States
5 hereby requests that Defendant be ordered to supply all prior statements of defense witnesses by a 6 reasonable date before trial to be set by the Court. Such an order should include any form in which these 7 statements are memorialized, including but not limited to, tape recordings, handwritten or typed notes 8 and/or reports.

9 VII

10 CONCLUSION

11 For the above stated reasons, the United States respectfully submits its Response and Opposition 12 to Defendant's Motions for Discovery, and requests that its Motion for Reciprocal Discovery be granted.

13 DATED: November 30, 2007.

14 Respectfully Submitted,
